

TITUS

CHAPTER 1:5-9

I want you to think of someone you think is a good leader. It might be a teacher, a politician or one of your friends. What is it that makes them a good leader?

In this letter Paul is telling Titus the things to look out for in people who would make good leaders. When you read the passage do you notice that he isn't giving a list of things a person needs to be good at, like good at speaking in public or is extremely clever. Instead he says to look for someone with good character, someone lives their life by God's word and is a good example.

Later in the letter to Titus, Paul gives examples of how older men and women should be examples to younger men and women in the church. So in effect he is saying we all need to be leaders in the church. This doesn't mean we are in charge and need to tell people what to do but more live our lives as an example. As Christians we are called to lead by the things we do to set an example to the world of how lead a different kind of life.
